First and Then

A "first and then" visual can support a child's understanding what is expected and support behaviour in non-preferred activities.

A child may be more likely to participate in a less motivating activity if it is followed by a reward;

First shopping then park
First chicken then pudding
First medicine then iPad

First

Then