

Micro-Schedules

A child may use a micro schedule for specific activities, such as using the toilet, washing their hands or getting dressed.

This helps them to understand routines and develop independence through reducing reliance on verbal or physical prompts.

